IMMEDIATE HELP FOR THE NEEDY.

Appeal of the Wheeling General Relief Committee—Money or Provisions Must Be Had at Once.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE WHEELING GENERAL RELIEF COMMITTEE, } WHEELING, W. VA., January 24, 1893. }

To the Public:

Since this committee began operations actively, December 22, it has honored 1,800 orders for relief. There are on the books 700 families. Every case has been investigated and a record carefully kept. The committee, as the almoner of the public bounty, has been able to supply the necessities of life to persons who otherwise would have been without food and fuel. So far as was possible work has been provided for the able-bodied, but this has fallen far short of the desire of the committee and of the necessities of the situation.

It was hoped that it might not become necessary to make a public appeal for aid, but the resources of the committee are exhausted and the deserving dependents are not able to care for themselves. Unless the demands increase beyond expectation $2,000 will carry the work through the next thirty days.

The committee can make the best use of money, although it will be glad to receive provisions. There is pressing need of $500 by Saturday next. Contributions may be made through the newspapers or to P. B. Dobbins, treasurer, at the Dollar Bank. Shall the work of relieving the needy stop short, or shall it go on? HARRY HOCKING, Secretary.

CHAS. BURDETT HART, Chairman.

THE WORK OF RELIEF.

An Appeal to the Public—The Orders Yesterday.

An unusually good meeting of the executive committee on relief to the poor was held last evening at the store house. Treasurer P. B. Dobbins reported that the funds of the committee were exhausted, and Manager Simpson reported that the stock at the store was substantially in the same condition.

In order to supply the demands of the destitute to-day, members of the committee made themselves personally responsible for such purchases as the manager may make. The situation was carefully canvassed and it was decided that unless the public comes promptly to the rescue the work will have to be abandoned. The committee decided to lay the case before the public at once and make an appeal for $2,000 in money or the equivalent in provisions, which it was hoped would run the committee for the next thirty days. Money is preferred, as it would enable the manager to buy just such things as are needed at the store, and which he would buy to the best advantage.

The secretary of the committee reported that up to date 1,800 orders for relief had been honored, and he has accounts with 700 families.

On motion of Mr. Naylor a committee on solicitation was appointed, as follows: Mr. Naylor, Mayor Caldwell and P. B. Dobbins. This committee is authorized to take such steps as in its judgment may seem advisable.

In view of the severe weather which is just setting in, the committee would very much regret to abandon its work, but it can go no further than the means placed at its disposal will permit. The next meeting of the committee will take place at the store house next Monday night, when the future of the work will be decided in the light of the public response that may be made up to that time.

At the committee's store yesterday only one donation was received, that being 100 loaves of bread from Lutz Bros., the laundrymen. The store was not open to fill general charity orders, but three emergency orders were received. Twenty-three city work tickets were turned in for provisions, etc. No work could be done by the city boards yesterday.

A STRONG MINING COMPANY.

A Wheeling Man Among the Incorporators at Cripple Creek.

The following is from the Evening Telegram, of Colorado Springs, Col., of January 19:

One of the largest and most important incorporations thus far recorded in connection with the Cripple Creek district has just been completed. The name of the company is the Battle Mountain Gold Mining Company, and the claims taken in are several of the largest at Cripple Creek.

The incorporators are D. H. Moffat, Eben Smith, W. E. Johnson, William Lennox, E. W. Giddings and N. B. Scott. The company is capitalized for $5,000,000, divided into one million shares of $5 each.

The claims included in the company's property are the Anna Lee, the Doubtful, White House, the Captain, the Queen of the Hills, Bob Tail, Bob Tail No. 2, and the National Belle. These, as is well known, include some of the best properties at Cripple Creek. The deal was completed by the transference of the lease and bond on the Anna Lee and Doubtful lodes given by the Amazon company to E. W. Giddings and others, to the new Battle Mountain company. The other claims are owned by the incorporators.

The concern will be a close corporation and none of the stock will be sold. The directors and officers are: Eben Smith, president and general manager; William Lennox, vice president; E. W. Giddings, treasurer; R. H. Reid, secretary, and W. E. Johnson, E. A. Colburn and W. S. Jackson. The company has splendid backing and will be strongly fortified against lawsuits now pending or to come in the future.

The river at this port is now rising, the stage last evening by the marks at the public landing being 9 feet 9 inches.

The Pittsburgh coal men are pushing a resolution before the National Board of Trade in favor of free navigation on the Monongahela river.

Capt. Doyle Bonzher, of the Adam Jacobs, says he remembers that in the year of 1842 the winter was mild up until February when it turned in very cold, the river froze over and remained so until the latter part of March.—Pittsburgh Commercial-Gazette.

Last night's headwater reports were as follows: Pittsburgh—River 6 feet and about stationary; clear and colder.

Warren—River 2 feet 7 inches and stationary; cold and snowing.

Oil City—River 2 feet 10 inches and stationary; cloudy and cold.

Greensboro—River 8 feet 1 inch and falling; snowing to-night.

In many instances the invalids are restricted by physicians to easily digestible food, usually, boiled or sterilized milk is prescribed. In such cases the value of Borden's Peerless Brand Evaporated cream, or unswollen condensed milk is apparent. Prepared by New York Condensed Milk Company.

R. B. SIMPSON DEAD.

He Passes Away After a Tedious and Painful Siege of Fever.

After an illness of over four weeks of typhoid fever, Robert B. Simpson, Jr., died yesterday forenoon. His death was not unexpected, yet his family and his host of friends clung to hope until the last, and when it came the grief of all was none the less poignant. He was not yet twenty-four years old, and until his fatal illness was a picture of health. He was the second son of Mr. William B. Simpson, and it seldom falls to the lot of any young man to be so universally respected and liked as he was. He spent two years at Cheltenham academy, near Philadelphia, and coming home took a responsible position in the Ohio Valley Bank. He left that institution to become a partner of D. G. Morgan in the insurance business, and for the past two years the firm has done a very good business. Mr. Simpson was a member of the order of Elks and of the Fort Henry club. In his business connections and in social life he was extremely popular, and his death comes home to many not related to him with the force of a personal bereavement. It seems hard that one entering upon so promising a career should be cut down at the very threshold.

STAR CLOTHING HOUSE—D. GUNDLING & CO.

Above Board!

There's no secret about it, although some folks can't see it any more than as though it was thirty-second degree Masonry. But it's as plain as the nose on your face to a large and rapidly increasing number of thinking people that good clothes, rightly tailored, serviceably trimmed, skillfully cut, made from good fabrics, are most desirable for your boys just as surely as such goods are most economical for the men folks. PRICES? Yes. We could quote a book full of them, but what good unless you see them on the garments? As a rule there's the most "hue and cry" about prices where there's the least of merit. Most of it is "all rot" and intended to blind you. WE CAN'T name the lowest prices ONLY because we WON'T handle unreliable stuff. Do you think less of us for saying so candidly? You pick the suit now—we'll do the rest.
